

Accidental Swimming Report
For
Benjamin Henderson

When I arrived at the pool, I saw Ms. Fisher giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and saying "give me a towel so I can get the food out of his mouth." Immediately I knelt down to help her. She took the towel and got the food out of his mouth. I put my hand on his chest and I could feel his heart beat. He was struggling breathing with each breath. I was praying and mentally focused on each of them. The next one didn't come in a timely rhythm. I said, "I can't feel his heart beat." Ms. Fischer started mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and when she blew in his mouth, I could hear the water. I helped turn him to the side to get the water out and she started back giving mouth-to-mouth. About that time, the Fire Rescue unit came in and started CPR.
