

I was in the cash box and then somebody asked where the phone was to call 911. I immediately grabbed the cash box and raced through the guys locker room and ran onto the deck and found Donald lying on his side moaning and spewing blood on the glass. I ran back to the office and grabbed the mouthpiece for he had stopped breathing. Angela first gave him mouth to mouth and then we found that he had no pulse. Angela administered CPR and I took over with mouth to mouth. We stopped when paramedics told us to do so.

Paramedics gave him stock treatments to revive pulse. Nothing seemed to be working.

They then after several other techniques took him to Garden City Hospital placed on a stretcher.

Donald was a boy that occasionally comes to the pool and likes to swim under water for both lengths of the pool.
